RECEPTION

Tendered Supreme President of Catholic Knights and Ladies of America.

A Representative Gathering of Catholic Ladies and Gentlemen.

Able Addresses by Mr. Kelley and Others Interested in the Work.

GREAT GAINS ARE BEING MADE

A large and representative audience of Catholic ladies and gentlemen assembled at Phoenix Hill Park Wednesday night to meet and greet the Hon. Dennis Kelley, of Memphis, Supreme President of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America. The reception was held in the park, where cool and inviting breezes made it more comfortable than if it had been held in the hall.

On the stand with Mr. Kelley were Mesdames William Kaiser, Mary Clines, Dave Welsh, Margaret Foley, Mary Weisenberg, Maria Clancy, John Sicker, William Norton, Misses Florence Clancy, Reus Weisenberg, Mary Sheridan, Dr. William B. Doherty, Anthony Hickenbeck, Thomas Keenan, John Fisher, Stephen J. McEllott, Patrick Holley and George Schaefer.

Patrick Holley presided and in opening the reception made a brief address, in which he paid a tribute to the ladies and then spoke of the high words of praise for what he declared was the best and safest fraternal insurance organization in the country. He also told how the order was growing in Kentucky. In conclusion he introduced Supreme President Kelley as a man of lofty ideas, whose phenomenal work of the past ten months indicates an increase of 5,000 members before January 1.

Supreme President Kelley was greeted with prolonged applause. He said in part: "Mr. Chairman, Brothers and Sisters: There are two particular reasons why I have a tender spot in my heart for the Catholic men and women of Louisville. The first is that the Catholic fraternal insurance society of which I have the honor of being the chief executive had its inception in Louisville, where a few enthusiastic Catholic men and women banded themselves together to form a Catholic insurance society that would give equal protection to men and women and that gave to Catholic women the right and opportunity of securing protection for their dependent ones. This society that was organized in Louisville had its inception in a catastrophe which brought tears and sorrow to many Catholics, and has lived to bring relief and sunshine in many a home that would indeed be in sorrow, distress and want. Starting in Louisville, it gradually followed the Ohio river to Cairo and down the grand Mississippi to Memphis, that great metropolis of the South that I have the honor to call home, and where we have six branches with a membership of over 600; spreading over to Arkansas, down through Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida; going westward through Missouri and Kansas to Colorado; northward through Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota and Indiana; jumping Ohio to land in Pennsylvania, and continuing to grow until we have branches now in fifteen States with a membership of over 10,000, our last year being the most prosperous since our organization, the increase in new business being over 80 per cent. above the preceding year and over 50 per cent. over the average of the four preceding years.

The Board of Directors at our January meeting appropriated $150 per month for advertising and extending the order. The results have been so satisfactory that, at the July meeting, they thought it wise to continue this course, and we look for even better results for the coming year, and in Louisville, where you have nineteen branches and a membership of 1,200, we expect at least an increase of 100 per cent. This can be easily accomplished if you give me the assistance I ask in advertising.

The second reason for my kind feelings toward Louisville is that the only other Catholic society to which I belong is so strong and prosperous in Kentucky and particularly in Louisville. I refer to the sterling old Irish Catholic society, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, a society that has withstood attacks from without and strife from within its own ranks, always coming out victorious, a society that has existed for nearly 600 years and which is nearing its century mark in America. It stands first among the great societies of the world in distribution of benefits, and when I stop to think of the number of priests and bishops that Ireland has given to America and that it was this grand old Irish Catholic organization that made it possible, I thank God that I have the honor to be a member thereof. An honor that I appreciate more than I can express in electing me their State President.

Mr. Kelly concluded by comparing the stability of fraternal insurance societies with that of old line companies, and by appealing to the young men and women to carry some life insurance as a protection against the possibility of imposing a second burden upon those who had already made many sacrifices to raise and educate them, and also to assist him in advertising and building up the order in Louisville and elsewhere.

Miss Mary Sheridan, Supreme Treasurer of the order, was next introduced. Her address was happy and full of wit. She said that she and the officers were proud of their Supreme President, and told how successful was the recent meeting of the Supreme Directors at Chicago. Miss Sheridan kept all present laughing telling her Chicago experiences. She said that at the last meeting of one branch in Chicago fifty-seven new members were initiated, and that ere long that branch would number 1,000.

Dr. William B. Doherty was the next speaker. He said he wanted all present to study and remember the good things they had heard. He dwelt at length on the history and founding of the order and paid a high tribute to the late Grand W. Smith, one of the originators of the idea that has taken shape in the formation of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America. Thomas Keenan brought the reception to a close with a brief and able address on the affairs of the order. During the evening several hundred applications were distributed among those present.

RIGHT MOVE.

Steps Taken to Unite Two Great Bodies of Young Catholic Men.

William M. Fogarty, the Supreme President of the Young Men's Institute, will visit Albany, N. Y., on August 22 and 23, to attend the thirty-first annual convention of the Catholic Young Men's National Union. He expects to promote a movement looking toward a union of the Young Men's Institute and the Catholic Young Men's National Union. The latter organization is to the Eastern States what the Y. M. I. is to the West. In union there is strength, we all know, and if these two organizations get together it would mean an organization of the youth, brainpower and the Catholic spirit of the whole United States.

GIVEN THE YEARS.

Sentence of three years' imprisonment has just been passed on a laborer named Koch, of Munster, Westphalia, for a remarkable series of larceny on a woman, by representing him as an emissary of the Pope. Koch, who had been in the United States for some time, was arrested after having obtained from his victim a sum of $3,000. Knowing the woman to be a good Catholic Koch induced to contribute money to a loan which said was being raised by the Pope, who would pay interest at the rate of 100 per cent. After advancing $2,500 the victim grew suspicious and demanded proof of her savings were really being forwarded to the Pope's exchequer. Koch at once promised to satisfy her. Next day he invited her to accompany him to Omaha, "where Bishop Voss will personally confirm my statements." On arriving at that town she was conducted to a house where an accomplice of Koch's told her in full Bishop's robes and her blessing and bade her to go. The great cause by further loans. After $500 was promptly advanced by the victim. The victim mentioned the matter to her incredulous neighbor, with the result that Koch was afterwards arrested.

Y. M. I. DAY

Promises to Be the Banner Fete of the Summer Season.

Mackin, Trinity and Satoli Councils Unite in Efforts to Please.

Fontaine Ferry Park Will Be the Scene of a Grand Gathering.

AMUSEMENTS FOR YOUNG AND OLD

Thursday of next week promises to be a great day for local councils of the Y. M. I. It will be the occasion for a grand outpouring of members of this popular order, their wives, families and sweethearts. Satoli, Mackin and Trinity Councils will share the honors, as they have borne the burdens. If the weather is propitious Fontaine Ferry Park will have the greatest crowd of the season, because there are very few Catholic families in Louisville that has not at least one member in this society, whose motto is "For God and Country." This joint picnic of the three councils has been well advertised, systematically advertised, and proper advertising is more than half the battle. The advertising was left in the hands of the Executive Committee, and the thanks of the three councils are due them for their earnest, faithful efforts.

The Executive Committee of the Joint Committee of the three councils met Wednesday night with every member present. Chairman Charles Ralby presided and the reports of the various sub-committees were encouraging. Matters were gone over in detail and where defects were found they were corrected. The sub-committee appointed for the purpose named the following "spielers," whose duty it will be to attract attention to the scenic railway, the miniature railway, the loop the loop and the aerial swings.

Trinity Council—William Hillebrich, Albert F. Martin, Eugene Cooney, John Flynn, Dr. Bernard O'Connor, Tony Hickenbeck and John Sullivan, Jr.
Satoli Council—Joseph Lenihan, John J. Crotty, William McNally, Edward Clem, James Perry, Al Steber and Albert T. Schrauz.
Mackin Council—James T. Shelley, Frank Adams, Samuel L. Robertson, Clarence H. Zook, Andy East, Otto Hubbuch, William Shaughnessy and Dr. Frank Meder.

Dr. Oliver Patton, Chairman of the Committee on Music and Dancing, stated that the demands for invitations to the dance to be given in connection with the joint picnic was great. He urged all members of the Y. M. I. who contemplated attending the dance to make prompt arrangements about engaging their lady friends, as he expected an unprecedented rush of belles and beaux. He also reported that the Mackin Social Club would attend the dance in a body and with colors flying.

Arrangements have been made by the park officials whereby the Y. M. I. members will be in charge of the grounds from noon until midnight. This is a guarantee that the best of order will prevail. Arrangements have been made with the Louisville Railway Company by which quick transportation to Fontaine Ferry Park will be furnished from all parts of the city. Remember that the price of admission will be only ten cents, but children accompanied by their parents will be admitted free. Besides the special features there will be the usual attractions at the park, including the Hopkins Pavilion.

One of the features of Fontaine Ferry Park for next week will be the vaudeville show at Hopkins' Pavilion. It is doubtful whether a better summer hill has ever been arranged. The five Hanlon Brothers will be the head-liners. These are the famous stars of "Superbe" fame, and for vaudeville they have a pantomimic sketch, "Phinny Phrollicks." The act runs for about half an hour and every minute of the time is filled with something to laugh at. It is one of the truly big acts in vaudeville. Something quite out of the ordinary will be seen in Capt. Bloom's demonstration of Marconi's wireless telegraphy. In the last two or three years the sciences have been repeatedly drawn on to furnish the vaudeville stage with entertainment and instruction. Capt. Bloom's demonstration is something of practical instruction as well as an act of entertaining features. And there will be a funny man in James H. Cullen. He made his initial bow to the Hopkins Theater audience last winter as "The Man From the West." Cullen delivers a bunch of foolishness that is guaranteed to bring forth one laugh per second.

Two pretty sisters, the Misses McConnell, are booked for a singing turn and for grotesque dancing. In their line they are said to be far above the ordinary. Another pretty young woman will figure on the bill in the person of Miss Ethel Robinson. She is styled the "May Irwin of Vaudeville," and is one of the cleverest comedienne now in the varieties. On account of their great popularity the diving horses have been retained for one more week. Their performance has already been witnessed by thousands of persons, and the crowds around the miniature lake into which the horses leap seem to grow larger instead of diminishing. No change will be made in the

UNION OUTING

Of the Ancient Order of Hibernians Promises to Be Successful.

Everything is progressing favorably toward the union of the four local divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in an annual outing and celebration, which, to all appearances, will now take place on August 21. The County Board held two meetings during the present week. The union celebration was discussed at both meetings, and committees were appointed to look after a site and date for holding the outing. The committee no doubt have secured definite information before this time, and various local divisions will act on their reports during the coming week.

It is the intention to hold the celebration at some popular resort, where members of the order, their families and friends can secure the greatest pleasure for the least money. As a matter of course, the Ladies' Auxiliary will have a prominent part in making the affair a success.

ABLE TEACHER.

Rev. Father Cavanagh, the new President of the University of Notre Dame, has been at the head of Holy Cross Seminary since 1899, and is one of the most scholarly men in the Roman Catholic church. He is but thirty-five years of age, strong and robust, and in every essential a type of vigorous American citizenship. He was born at Leontopolis, Ohio, was educated at the parish school in that town, and at Notre Dame, to which he now comes as President, and was ordained in 1894. For the past twelve years he has been assistant editor of Ave Maria, is a noted lecturer and has been an industrious contributor to the current magazines.

NEW HARNESS FIRM.

Messrs. Herin & Holland have purchased the business of Arthur Vogdes, 1933 Baxter, between Highland and Transit avenues, and are prepared to do any and all kinds of harness making and repairing. Mr. Chris J. Herin, who will be the active manager and superintendent of the new firm, brings a long experience and wide acquaintance into the business. Both Messrs. Herin and Holland are young Irish-Americans of great popularity, and if hustling brings success they will certainly attain it.

GRAND ALTAR.

Rev. Father O'Connell, pastor of St. Augustine's church in Jeffersonville, will soon contract for a grand altar for the new church just completed that will cost not less than $2,000 and will be among the finest in Indiana. Improvements continue to be made about the church, and this week the Building Committee let contracts for wide pavements for the front and west side of the

GREAT GOOD

Will Be Outcome of Meeting of National Directors of the A. O. H.

Kentucky's Representative on Board Talks Entertainingly of Proceedings.

Heartily Indorsement of Order Given by His Grace Archbishop Farley.

MATTERS THAT ARE FULL OF INTEREST

George J. Butler, representative for Kentucky and the entire South on the National Board of Directors of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, has just returned from Atlantic City, N. J., where he attended the annual meeting of the board. National President James E. Dolan presided during the several sessions that were held on July 18, 19, 20 and 21. The proceedings of each session were full of interest for Hibernians, but as a matter of course only a cursory account of what was done can be given to the newspaper. Director Butler stated to a representative of the Kentucky Irish American that the meeting of the National Board was one of the most important held in recent years, and that in his opinion it will be productive of great good for the order.

In response to queries Mr. Butler said that the presence of His Grace, the Most Reverend Archbishop Farley, of New York, was not only gratifying to members of the order throughout the entire country, but his activity in all matters appertaining to the good of the order was appreciated by all the members of the National Board. Not only did Archbishop Farley attend all the sessions, but he expressed himself as highly pleased with the results of their deliberations, and was delighted to learn what he did about the Ancient Order. His Grace also assured the board members and the order that their deliberations had his heartiest approval.

The proposed lecture bureau was disposed of by ordering the selection of five names to be announced later. At the proper time the names of these five persons can be secured by any division desiring their services.

It also developed, Director Butler stated, that National President Dolan had received a gold medal from the Paris World's Fair of 1900, giving the A. O. H. the first prize as the greatest benevolent organization in the world. Facilitates of this medal can soon be secured from National President Dolan. Members of the National Board were pleasantly surprised when the National Secretary reported that the actual membership of the order was 177,748. This was good news indeed, since the members are striving to secure a grand total of 200,000 before the biennial convention, which will meet at Saratoga next year. Mr. Butler stated that the reports show that the increase is being steady and not by fits and starts. He adds that Kentucky generally, Louisville in particular, is doing its best to promote the best interests of the order.

The report of the National Treasurer showed that in the treasuries of the various divisions there was an aggregate reserve fund of $1,537,538.13. This is indeed quite a tidy sum, which sooner or later will be expended on the care of the widows and orphans of Hibernians.

National Director Butler states that, in view of the fact that Archbishop Farley in the East and Archbishop Glennon in the West are taking so much interest in emigrants generally, the National Board deemed it wise to look into the interests of Irish emigrants in particular, and to that end took proper steps to procure the necessary data pertaining to free lands in Western States. The result of these investigations will be laid before the national convention at Saratoga next year. The best method of entertaining members and friends of the Ancient Order of Hibernians on St. Patrick's day was discussed, but all the directors agreed, said National Director Butler, that the programmes should contain Irish music that would entertain, Irish history that would instruct, and Irish oratory that would inspire.

The matter of establishing a National Home for aged Hibernians was brought up, but its proper discussion was postponed for the National convention next year.

The National Board entered heartily into the movement now being made toward giving Jack Barry the proper place in United States history as the father of the American navy. As a consequence resolutions were adopted by which the National Secretary was ordered to forward copies of the action of the National Board and the necessary data to President Roosevelt and to every member of Congress, and to the Congressional Library Commission. The documents will be presented in Washington to the Library Committee next November.

Before adjourning resolutions were adopted expressing commendation and expressing thanks to Editor P. J. Hiltigan, of the National Hibernian, for his able conduct of the paper, the official organ of the order. Under the Hibernian has become recognized as one of the foremost journals of the country. Mr. Butler, while speaking freely of what the National Board did, was exceptionally modest as to the part he took in its proceedings.

CELTIC STUDIES

Advised by President Roosevelt in an Address to Catholic Students.

The following excerpt from President Roosevelt's address at the annual commencement exercises of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., shows that the Chief Executive of our nation is keeping in touch with affairs dear to every Irish heart. In his address President Roosevelt said:

"In this country of ours we are developing a new type of nationality, a type kin to each of the various old world races, from which it in part springs and yet is separate from all. Each stock that comes here can furnish something of permanent value to the country as a whole, and from each stock we have the right to expect the furnishing of that element. Here in Holy Cross College, I want to say one word which ought to be spoken to ears willing to hear it. Here I want to make an appeal for scholarship and in all our universities along a certain line. During the last three years I have happened, by chance, to grow peculiarly interested in the great subject of Celtic literature, and I feel that it is not a creditable thing to the American republic, which has in its citizenship so large a Celtic element, that we should leave it to the German scholars and students to be our instructors in Celtic literature. I want to see in Holy Cross, in Harvard, in all the other universities where we can get the chairs endowed, chairs for the study of Celtic literature."

MACKIN COUNCIL

Transacted Considerable Business in One Short Night.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., had a fair attendance Tuesday night. Three applications were received and two new members were initiated. Appropriate resolutions on the death of the late Bernard H. Saltenbrock were reported by Messrs. Charles Ralby, Frank Morgau and George Lautz. The resolutions were adopted by the council.

Chairman George Loutz, on behalf of his committee, stated that arrangements had been made for an elaborate celebration of Mackin Council's twelfth anniversary on September 2. The joint committee reported that arrangements for the picnic to be held at Fontaine Ferry Park on August 10 were progressing favorably, and the work of the committee was given an unqualified indorsement. Louis Kieffer announced that there was a great sale of tickets for the joint picnic. The Mackin Social Club reported that its members had resolved to attend the joint celebration dance in a body.

Jacob Heinrich, who has been ill, was reported better, while John A. Hubouch has been compelled to go to the country to recuperate.

LINE OFFICERS

Of Uniform Rank, Catholic Knights of America, to Meet in Chicago.

The line officers of the Uniform Rank department of the Catholic Knights of America will meet in convention at the Kaiserhof Hotel, in Chicago, on August 27 and 28. The principal object of the convention is to amend the rules and regulations governing the Uniform Rank. Dr. Felix Gaudin, of New Orleans, Supreme President of the C. K. of A., will be at this convention, and Major General Kadeski, of Quincy, Ill., will preside. All of the line officers of the Uniform Rank are expected to be present and the delegates will discuss the best means of promoting the order. Leaders of other uniformed Catholic societies have been invited to attend, so that if possible a greater bond of fraternity may be established between the various bodies.

K. C. OUTING.

Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, held its annual outing at Fern Grove on Tuesday. More than four hundred Knights and their respective families and lady friends enjoyed the pleasures of the day. On the grounds there were match games of base ball, foot racing, sack racing and other athletic sports, giving the young people a chance to display their muscle. Dancing was another pleasant feature of the day. P. H. Callahan, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, is receiving the thanks of all for the able manner in which he looked after the details of the enjoyable affair.

ENJOYS GOOD HEALTH.

Rev. Father Hillebrand, rector of St. Mary's of the Knobs, near New Albany, writes to the Kentucky Irish American from Switzerland that he is enjoying the best of health. He is now one of his countrymen who will arrive in Louisville on the 10th inst.

ELECTION

Of Grand Officers of Kentucky Jurisdiction Attracting Much Interest.

All Candidates Mentioned Have Splendid Records in Y. M. I. Circles.

Rivalry in Some Instances Is Keen, But in All Senses Friendly.

STREET PARADE A BIG FEATURE

Each succeeding day is enhancing the interest that is being taken in the forthcoming meeting of the Grand Council of the Y. M. I. Kentucky jurisdiction, which will be held at Newport on August 21 and 22. A grand street parade of the order will take place on the afternoon of Sunday, August 20, and it is expected that every council in Kentucky will send representative delegates to take part in this demonstration. Besides the councils from Kentucky, it is expected that Robert F. Doyle Council of Cincinnati will assist their brethren in Newport in making the parade a success. It is hardly necessary to say that Satoli, Trinity and Mackin Councils will send their full quota of representatives to this grand Y. M. I. demonstration. As a matter of fact the street parade is only attracting interest as a side issue, since the main interest hangs upon the election of officers. While the rivalry among the candidates for the grand offices is keen, it is nevertheless of a kindly nature.

Dr. Joseph Riordan, of Lafayette Council, Newport, Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the approaching convention, is an old time worker in Y. M. I. ranks. His friends desire to see him elected Grand President and they are hustling to carry out their desires to effect. Many members of Trinity Council would like to see Grand President James B. Kelly elected for another term, but since he has served two terms it is hardly possible that he will allow his name to be mentioned for a third term unless some extraordinary exigency arises.

Mackin Council, of Louisville, looms up with a promising candidate in the person of James Shelley, whose executive ability in the past stamps him as a most fit man for the place. Delegates from Mackin have been instructed to vote for him for Grand President, while Satoli would like to have Attorney William O'Connor become chief executive of the order in this State. Frank Adams, of Mackin, has made a distinct impression as Chairman of the Board of Grand Directors and he also has friends in every council in the jurisdiction who would be pleased to see him elected Grand President. Any one of the named will make acceptable. They are all active workers in the order and have shown that they are with the proper Y. M. I. spirit. Thus far the only candidate recently mentioned for Grand President is Albert F. Martin, of Louisville, and his friends would like to see him elected.

John P. Shannon, of Lexington, made a capable and an effective Secretary-Treasurer. His hard work indorsed by another term. Certainly a candidate of this kind is deserved. Joseph Gaudin, of Bellevue, is also being put forth by his friends as candidate for Grand Secretary-Treasurer. Like all the others mentioned, he has been a faithful Y. M. I. worker and his election would give satisfaction to all.

It may be that representative councils at Owensboro, Frankfort, New Haven, Lebanon and Bardonia likewise have members who would be pleased to see installed in some high office of the Grand Council. Chickasaw Council, of Memphis, which also belongs to the Kentucky jurisdiction, may want one of its members preferred. The more candidates the merrier it will be. No one section has any claim to perpetual office holding. After looking over the list of delegates it is easy to see that the best men will be selected for each and every office.

The Burnett House in Cincinnati will be the official headquarters for the delegates, but the business sessions of the convention will be held in the commodious quarters of Lafayette Council, Fifth and York streets, Newport. On Monday evening a grand ball will be given in honor of the delegates, Grand officers and visitors. The banquet in their honor will be given at the Burnett House on the evening of Tuesday, August 22. All the members of the order who can spare the time should at least assist in making the street parade a success even if they are not able to remain for the deliberations of the Grand Council. The members of the Entertainment Committee of Lafayette Council have worked hard to arrange a suitable reception and to make the visitors comfortable. They are now making the best of their efforts to make the convention a success.

'TIS WELL TO KNOW.

In these days, when the whole big world appears to have been transformed into a large-sized interrogation point, it is doubly necessary that Catholics should know and be able to give reasons for the faith that in them is, writes the venerable Father Cronin in the Buffalo Union and Times. It is not uncommon, though it is to be deplored, that they are unable to answer questions pertaining to ceremony and belief. This condition invariably brings forth the charge that they are unable to answer questions pertaining to ceremony and belief. This condition invariably brings forth the charge that our people are ignorant and their religion is a sham.

Such a contention is inconsistent, to be sure, but in a discussion of religious topics there should be absolutely no opportunity for such a charge.

Never in all the history of the church have her members had such ample means at their command to gain knowledge. Books on all sacred topics are easily to be had; Catholic newspapers there are in plenty, all full to the margin with matter explanatory and edifying; missionaries go into the highways and byways, their sole object being to increase the faith and spread the light.

Hundreds, nay, thousands, of intelligent thinking people are seeking the truth. It is not possible for the priest to take care of all these, hence the necessity of the lay apostolate. The priest is the legal adviser, but the layman also has his work to do. When the inquirer has made up his mind that the church should be his religious home, he has reached the parting of the ways. Thereafter instruction should be given by the father who has made theology his life study.

The lay apostolate idea is growing and it is having a good effect. Policemen and Catholic women ravages of mammon and come with sorrow because of the spectacle. They band together to overthrow and all his pomp. With mother and the hierarchy undertaking it is bound the fruit it will eventually will astonish the as we have many times remarked, the power of example is wonderful. Every Catholic should be a shining light setting forth the pure, the beautiful, the truly Christian teaching of the great religious body of which he is a member.

Let Catholics be Catholics, and America will be redeemed.

SINS OF THE FATHER.

Is not Miss Ida M. Tarbell, who is evidently a "strong-minded woman" of mature age, unfairly assailing John D. Rockefeller when dragging to light and from the grave the sins of his father? asks the New Orleans Morning Star. It is true, as Holy Writ says, the sins of the father are visited upon offspring to the third and fourth generation; but the particular kind of parental faults or bad habits do not always so descend. According to Miss Tarbell, the father of the oil king was a wild sport and all that followed in early Western days. He was even suspected of horse racing. He was profane and irreverent. Now, the younger Rockefeller is being fully satisfied with the idea of having served with the police. He has been one of the very best, Na-

Of course, Miss Tarbell lugs out the old Rockefeller to charge, by implication, if not actually, that the younger Rockefeller is a kind of moral monster and a vaster rogue than his progenitor—that the old man was rather wholesome in comparison.

It must not be forgotten that Miss Tarbell has a grievance. She thinks that Rockefeller outwitted, or, as she puts it, cheated her father. She is stimulated by revenge. She wants to "get even" with the Standard oil magnate. This is not Christian conduct, and whatever the present Rockefeller may be, his father's errors need not have been exposed to view after he had been long buried. We do not fancy John D. Rockefeller's methods and doubt the sincerity of his benefactions; but he is doing what many other men are engaged in, the absorption of money and monopoly. Perhaps, if he had, early in the day, been outwitted by some who anathematize him now, they would have done precisely what he does, no matter what their father was, even if he were a saint. Poor man! In spite of his multi-millions, he is not happy. He would give many of them to possess a stomach like a sound day laborer. He is a constant target for criticism. He probably has neither exterior nor interior peace. He is out of the only true church. He has to die and go to judgment. His shroud will have no pockets. No good man, however wanting in material wealth, need envy him. Even if he be all that Miss Tarbell says, she might have shown her superior morality by allowing at least the old scamp of a father to memorially rest in peace.

ABOUT FRANCIS O'NEIL.

Francis O'Neil has resigned his position as Chief of Police of Chicago and has retired to his suburban farm to spend his days studying Irish music and Irish literature. Mr. O'Neil retires after an honorable career of thirty years with the Chicago police force. He arose from the ranks step by step until he became its Chief—the greatest Chief Chicago ever had, and one of the greatest police Chiefs in the United States. He was born in Ireland nearly sixty years ago, and still retains his love for all that is good and beautiful in the old land. He is a violinist and flute player of no mean ability and for more than twenty years has been collecting music of Ireland. These airs he compiled and published about two years ago. Mr. O'Neil is both a scholar and a gentleman and is a living refutation of the idea that policemen are toughs and bullies. While we have no policemen in Louisville with the scholarly attainments of Francis O'Neil, the majority of our guardians of the peace are gentlemanly and many of them are well read. In neatness and behavior the police force of Louisville will stand comparison with any in the United States.

The resume of the proceedings of the National Board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians as given by National Director Butler will prove interesting reading to all Hibernians, and they will rejoice that Kentucky is so ably represented on that Board. National President Dolan has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election, being fully satisfied with the work of having served with the police. He has been one of the very best, National Presidents the order has ever had. It therefore behooves the Hibernians to look about for a capable successor to President Dolan. Where could they find a more capable man than George J. Butler? Big in frame, in heart and strength of mind, he is a thorough Hibernian and always works to the best interests of the order. As local and State officer he proved his capabilities, and as a member of the National Board he has shown that he is capable of widening his efficiency. If Mr. Butler can spare the time from his private business the local Hibernians should at once begin a campaign in his behalf, and if they elect him Kentucky, the South and the entire Hibernian brotherhood will have reason to feel proud of him.

State Auditor Hager has gone after the Revenue Agents in a manner that leaves no doubt as to his earnestness of purpose. Many ugly charges of graft have been made and all are being investigated. It is very gratifying to know that his agents in Louisville and Jefferson county have complied strictly with the law and have saved the State Government many thousands of dollars. The revenue law is a good one if properly carried out, as it makes all pay only their just share of the taxes that are required for the necessary expenses of the Commonwealth.

During the present week the local daily papers contained glowing accounts of the Rev. (?) W. H. Kelly's return to Ireland. Kelly, it appears, is a convert to Mormonism and is now on his way to Ireland to convert the people of his native land to the doctrine of polygamy. Poor Kelly! The job St. Patrick had in driving the snakes out of Ireland is nothing in comparison to the job he has picked out for himself.

Louisville may be no better, but it is certainly no worse, than other cities of its size, and those "good" men who would improve her condition will accomplish nothing for her benefit by heralding false statements and holding the populace up to scorn. The city has its failings, it is true, but these are more than balanced when everything is taken into consideration. Abuse and slander will not help build up the city.

The fact that the building permits issued in Louisville during the past seven months show an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the corresponding period of any previous year should please our citizens. And the figures quoted should quiet those papers that are continually "knocking" the city and its government.

NEW PRESIDENT.

John H. Coleman Attains His Boyhood's Ambition After Long Service.

John H. Coleman, one of the most favorably known Irish-Americans in Louisville, has been chosen President of the reorganized N. Sid Platt Company, shirt manufacturers and dealers in gentlemen's furnishings, at 210 Fourth avenue. During the past twenty-eight years Mr. Coleman has been connected with N. Sid Platt and his successors, and has now attained the ambition of his boyhood—President of the company. The other new members of the N. Sid Platt Company are R. G. Shanley and James D. Bass. With three such popular and able gentlemen guiding its affairs the reorganized firm should show a great increase in business.

NOW PRESIDENT COLEMAN.

BABY OVER THE WAY.

Across in my neighbor's window,
With its drapings of satin and lace,
I see 'neath a crown of ringlets
A baby's innocent face.
His feet in their wee red slippers
Are tapping the polished glass,
And the crowd in the street look upward
And nod and smile as they pass.

Just here in my cottage window,
Catching flies in the sun,
With a patch on his faded apron,
Stands my one little one.
His face is as pure and handsome
As the baby's over the way,
And he keeps my heart from breaking
At my toiling every day.

Sometimes, when the day is ended,
And I sit in the dusk to rest,
With the face of my sleeping darling
Hugged close to my lonely breast,
I pray that my neighbor's baby
May not catch heaven's roses all,
But that some may crown the forehead
Of my loved one as they fall.

And when I draw the stockings
From his tired little feet,
And kiss the rosy dimples
In his limbs so round and sweet,
I think of the dainty garments
Some little children wear,
And from that my God withhold them
From mine so pure and fair.

May God forgive my envy!
I knew not what I said;
My heart is crushed and humbled,
My neighbor's boy is dead!
I saw the little coffin,
As they carried it out today,
A mother's heart is breaking
In the mansion over the way.

The light is fair in my window,
The flowers bloom at my door;
My boy is chasing the sunbeams
That dance on the cottage floor.
The roses of health are blushing
On my darling's cheek today;
But baby is gone from the window
Of the sad house over the way.

JOCKEY CLUB IRK.

Herr Louis Kindermann and his famous German Marine Band come to the Jockey Club Park for a week's engagement, beginning to-morrow night. It will be remembered that Herr Kindermann and his band made a great hit when they appeared at the Jockey Club Park last year. Among the large number of musical organizations now touring the country the German Marine Band holds a conspicuous place. Under the magic baton of Herr Kindermann a ceaseless stream of musically gems pervades each concert, one of the many descriptive pieces which has won merited applause for Herr Kindermann and his band is "The Franco-German War of 1870-1871." This riles the audience in spirit back more than thirty years. The German peasantry are heard singing in the fields; then comes the declaration of war by the pope; following this comes the Emperors' call to arms, the clash of battle and a great descriptive piece of music which has been heard several times during the war.

HONORARY EMPEROR.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

The first degree will be conferred on a large class at Auburn, N. Y., about September 1.

De Smet Council of St. Louis had fifty-four candidates ready for advancement last Sunday.

National Organizer Mee made arrangements this week for the institution of a council at Monett, Mo.

Minneapolis and St. Paul Knights last Sunday went in large numbers to Mankato to witness the initiation of a large class of new members and the conferring of the degrees.

Colorado Springs Council, No. 552, is anxious to build a national home in Colorado Springs for members of the order. It is estimated that an assessment of five cents per month per member will yield an annual income of $84,000. The other councils are a little slow about taking up the plan.

Connecticut Knights will hold their first annual State field day at Savin Rock, near Bridgeport, on August 15. A base ball game and other athletic events will furnish great sport. In the evening there will be a tournament between the Winchester Gun Club and the Knights of Columbus State Shooting Club.

Today will be celebrated as Embarkation day by the New Jersey Knights of Columbus. It means a grand reunion of the Knights at Atlantic City. At present there are members of the order there from nearly every State in the Union. The programme is unusually elaborate and attractive. The affair is arranged in celebration of the embarkation of Columbus at Palos August 3, 1492. It was inconvenient for many of the Knights to leave their places of business in New York, Jersey City, Philadelphia, Washington and other nearby towns on Thursday, hence the celebration was fixed for today.

HINTS ON STYLE.

A greater number of fancy shoes are being worn than ever before.

Linen collars are in again and are shaped to fit the neck and fasten with two buttons at the back.

Sleeves show decided fullness at the top, expressing fullness rather than width.

A coffee colored pongee is a useful thing to buy for an outing.

No summer frock, especially one of the sheer variety, is complete without a touch of black velvet to give it a smart touch.

Flat trimmings are newer than flounces and the double and triple skirts are still in vogue.

Washable coats are the garments of the day and especially stylish for young girls.

The high, hard pompadour is out of date. If the hair needs something to lift it there are small combs for this purpose.

Linen gowns are made with tight fitting vests, which must be closed at all times to give the desired effect.

New colors introduced in Paris are flesh color, tarnished copper, sun bronze, Parma violet and brick pink and mercury and all the new materials come in these tones.

The plain tailored skirt and coat of linen, the coat, long or short, close fitting or loose, is one of the smartest of the summer.

The striped silks in black and white or some dark color and white have much prestige for revers, waistcoats, girders, bows and even whole Directoire coats.

The pongees are successful coat materials, but are little used except for traveling.

The embroidered linen gown is the height of the mode for certain occasions.

BASE BALL.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the strong Trinity Council team will line up against the Eller Bros. nine at Shelby and Kentucky streets. Beckman or Rudy, either of whom will puzzle the opposing batters, will twirl for Trinity, while J. Garrity will do the backstop work. The strong rivalry between the teams will result in a warm contest.

"Will nobody please chase the cow down this way?" said the funny boarder who wanted some milk for his coffee.

"Here, Jane," said the landlady, ironically, "take the cow down where the calf is bawling!"

TRINITY COUNCIL

Initiates Twelve Members and Receives Twenty-Two Applications.

The initiation of twelve new members occupied a great part of the meeting of Trinity Council Monday night. The attendance was unusually large and those initiated were F. Fallon, T. J. Sullivan, C. J. Stuecker, August Schneider, Robert Fallon, W. T. Hase, Herman Sils, Joseph W. Gaffney, Ben Schuck, A. Wetter, William Corbett and John C. Malone.

Besides those initiated twenty-two applications for membership were filed. This is the last week's struggle between the rival teams which are contending to increase Trinity's membership, and the contest waxed warmer with each succeeding day.

A communication from Lafayette Council, at Newport, inviting Trinity to send a large delegation to the State convention, was read and was favorably received.
